Bobcat, Lynx Rufus, At Jones Park on the morning of Friday, September 30, 2005, Anita Howlett and Darlene Conley were surprised to see a young bobcat, Lynx rufus, prowling in the back driveway. They said the feline hung around for about 5 minutes and disappeared behind the nature center. Other Jones Park staff have reported sightings of bobcats as well, and a pair of bobcats were spotted as they crossed the park road this summer. This young bobcat might be one of the offspring of this pair.
